INSTITUTIONAL DECLARATION

Venezuela Digna — Proyecto País 2027–2037 is an initiative promoted and sponsored by Despierta Venezuela Inc.

It arises from the need to contribute to the recovery, reconstruction and construction of a new Venezuela, after more than 27 years of a regime that has deeply marked the country and an opposition that, from our institutional perspective, has failed to offer the answers that Venezuela needs.

This Country Project does not belong to, represent, or is subordinate to any politician, political party, candidacy, or partisan movement.

It arises from Venezuelan civil society: men and women, professionals, organizations, social leaders, businesspeople, entrepreneurs, and citizens of values and principles who share a fundamental conviction:

VENEZUELA COMES FIRST.

It is a project conceived for Venezuelans, built with Venezuelans and oriented towards future generations.

Above personal, partisan, or economic interests, we are united by our love for Venezuela, the dignity of its people, and the determination to contribute to building a country based on principles, solid institutions, opportunities, justice, and prosperity.
freedom.

And in our formula to rebuild Venezuela, we always put God first.

1. PURPOSE, VISION AND STARTING POINT

Venezuela Digna — Proyecto País 2027–2037 proposes a national roadmap so that Venezuelan families can sustain a dignified life through their work, access reliable services, care for their members, and build a future without depending on political loyalties. The project calls upon citizens inside and outside the country, workers, businesspeople, universities, communities, social organizations, churches, and the diaspora.

Vision 2037. To move towards a country where a growing majority of households can meet their essential needs with their own income, in safe communities, with reliable access to health, education, water, energy, justice, connectivity and productive opportunities.

Guiding question: How does this tangibly, sustainably, and verifiably improve the lives of Venezuelans? A completed project without operational service will not be considered a sufficient result; the Plan proposes measuring continuity, quality, access, and well-being, in addition to the money spent.

Five principles that guide decisions

God as the foundation	Service, truth, responsibility and respect for freedom of conscience.
The family as a strength	Evaluate the impact of each policy on income, security, care, housing, education, and family time.
Human dignity as a principle	Rights, justice, and services cannot be turned into political favors.
Opportunities as a path	Education, work, entrepreneurship, investment, and social mobility.
Venezuela as a common home: Inclusive reconstruction for Venezuelans inside and outside the country.

Diagnosis and reconstruction approach

The starting point is systemic: income, services, infrastructure, institutions, human capital, and trust are all interconnected. Therefore, it is not enough to repair a hospital without water and electricity; to train young people without productive opportunities; or to attract investment without predictable rules and fairness.

The initial assessment will combine administrative records, technical inspections, and representative surveys. Each data point must identify its source, date, coverage, and limitations. Interventions will be coordinated territorially to address interdependencies among water, electricity, health, education, logistics, security, and production.

2. DIGNITY BASKET AND MAJOR NATIONAL PRIORITIES

The Dignity Basket will be a transparent and territorial reference to assess whether a family's disposable income
It allows for a materially secure life with opportunities for advancement. It will include food, housing, water, Electricity, connectivity, transportation, education, health, and a minimum capacity for saving. It will not replace statistics.
poverty officials will not automatically receive a decreed salary.

Feeding	Sufficient and safe diet
Dwelling	Rental or maintenance and physical security
Services	Water, sanitation, energy and waste
Mobility	Transportation for work, study, and care
Health and care	Medications, care and dependencies
Education and connection	Supplies, assistance, internet and devices
Resilience	Minimum reserve against loss of income or emergency

Twelve pillars of the integrated master version

1. Economy, employment and income	2. Health
3. Education and talent	4. Water and sanitation
5. Electricity and energy	6. Security and justice
7. Housing and cities	8. Infrastructure and transport
9. Production, business and investment	10. Technology and the Digital State
11. Social protection and opportunities	12. Principles, family and coexistence

3. IMPLEMENTATION, FINANCING AND ACCOUNTABILITY

Implementation horizons

PHASE 0 — Preparation	Baselines, inventories, regulatory review, institutional capacities, and financial preparedness.
PHASE 1 — First 100 days	Protect life and essential services; initiate audits, censuses, transparency systems and critical response.
PHASE 2 — Stabilization: 3–24 months	Recover operational, institutional and productive capacities.
PHASE 3 — Reconstruction: years 2–5	Modernize infrastructure, services, institutions and the economy.
PHASE 4 — Transformation: years 5–10	Consolidate productivity, human capital, technology, institutions and quality of life.

Fiscal discipline and financing

No list of needs automatically equates to a funded budget. Before committing resources, usable assets, available personnel, contracts, obligations, legal restrictions, operational capacity, and recurring costs must be identified. The fiscal assessment will determine the actual space for essential spending, maintenance, and investment.

Depending on the nature of each project, financing may combine public resources, reallocation for efficiency, private investment, public-private partnerships, concessions, international cooperation, multilateral organizations, and diaspora participation. Every significant initiative must identify its cost, source, timeframe, responsible party, impact, dependencies, maintenance, and risks.

Transparency, anti-corruption and citizen oversight

Transparency will be a cross-cutting principle. OPEN VENEZUELA, OPEN PROCUREMENT, OPEN WORKS , and VENEZUELA DATA will allow for tracking budgets, contracts, projects, modifications, payments, and results, within the applicable legal framework. The goal is to replace a culture of announcements with a culture of verifiable results.

How will success be measured?

The indicators will include real income and employment, households that can afford the Basic Food Basket, continuity of water and electricity, effective access to healthcare, learning and school attendance, security, processing times, infrastructure functioning, productivity, social protection, transparency, and institutional trust. Each program must publish progress, deviations, and corrective actions.

> Desired outcome: that Venezuelan families can live, work, study, start businesses, raise their children, feel safe, receive care, save, and build a future in Venezuela. Success should be evident in daily life: less wasted time, functioning services, better opportunities, reliable institutions, and greater capacity for households to support themselves through their own efforts.
